AIBS Announces Call for Resident Director in Dhaka!!

AIBS invites applications for the competitive AIBS Resident Fellow program. This position will be for one year, with the possibility of 6-12 months additional service.

The AIBS Resident Fellow will participate in the substantive work of AIBS and receive professional mentoring from the AIBS and the Council of American Overseas Research Centers Executive Leadership. The aim of this program is to professionalize a scholar who works primarily on Bangladesh Studies by offering US non-profit experience as well as experience working with professionals (academic and governmental) in an international setting. The AIBS Resident Fellow program allows recent PhD (or ABD) to gain valuable, career-building experience in administration, management, and public service. Administrative experience will include (but not be limited to) the following: managing the AIBS lecture series, creating outreach events with local institutions, assisting research fellows with academic affiliations, logistics for research fellows (including visa assistance), and managing conferences and workshops. The Fellow will also have networking opportunities with incoming junior and senior AIBS Research Fellows as well as with US academics who specialize in Bangladesh. Prior to relocation to Bangladesh, the AIBS Fellow will meet with the AIBS Executive Committee in Madison, Wisconsin, in conjunction with the Conference on South Asia (October 22-25, 2015).

Applicants must:
1. Possess US Citizenship or be Permanent Residents of the US
2. Be either ABD or a recent PhD (last three years) in the humanities or social sciences.
3. Have experience living, working, or researching abroad, preferably in Bangladesh

To Apply, please submit the following to Laura Hammond, US Director:
